

(C) Sumitha Publishers

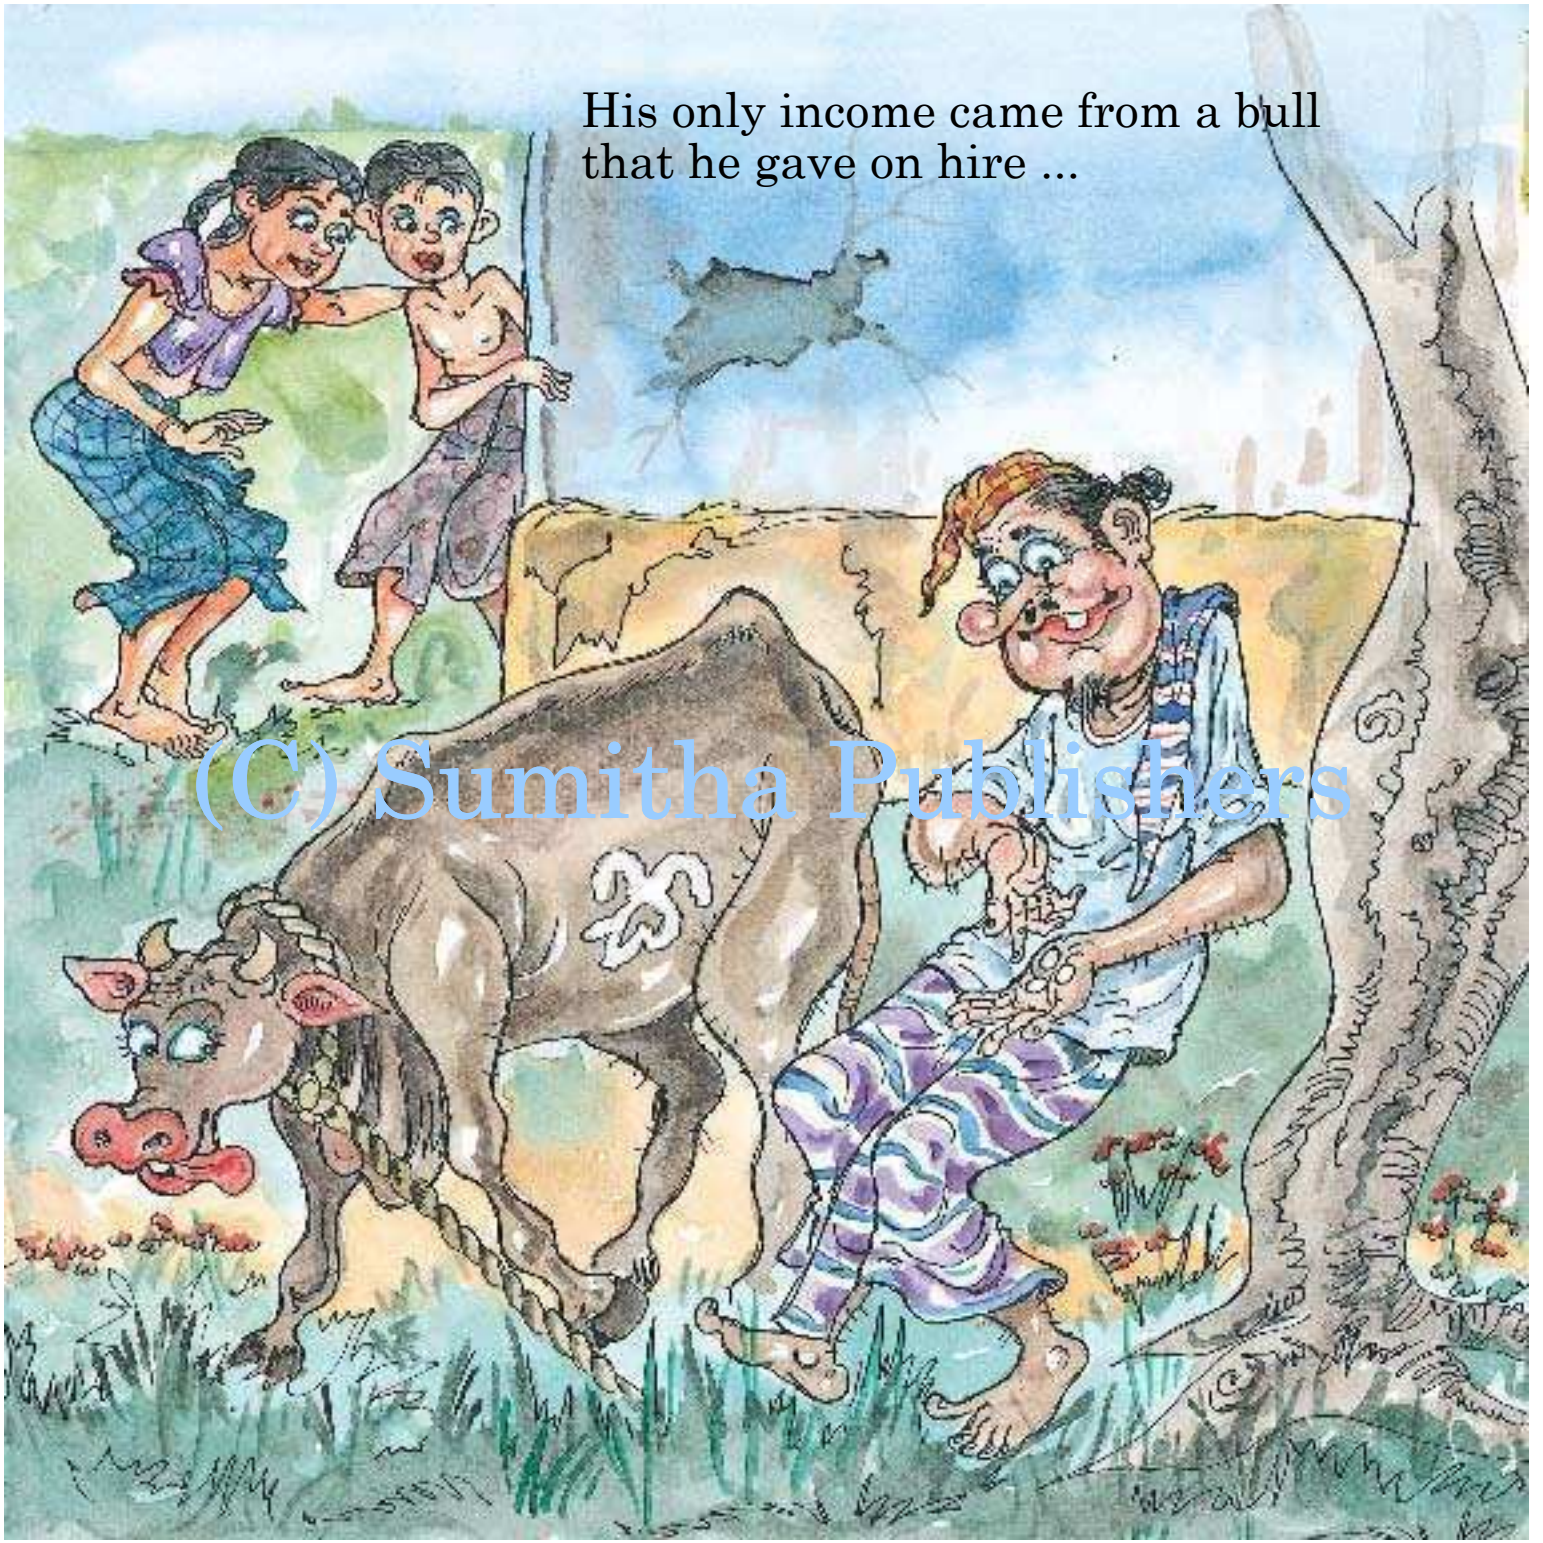

Once upon a time there lived in a distant rural village a man named Kapuruhami.

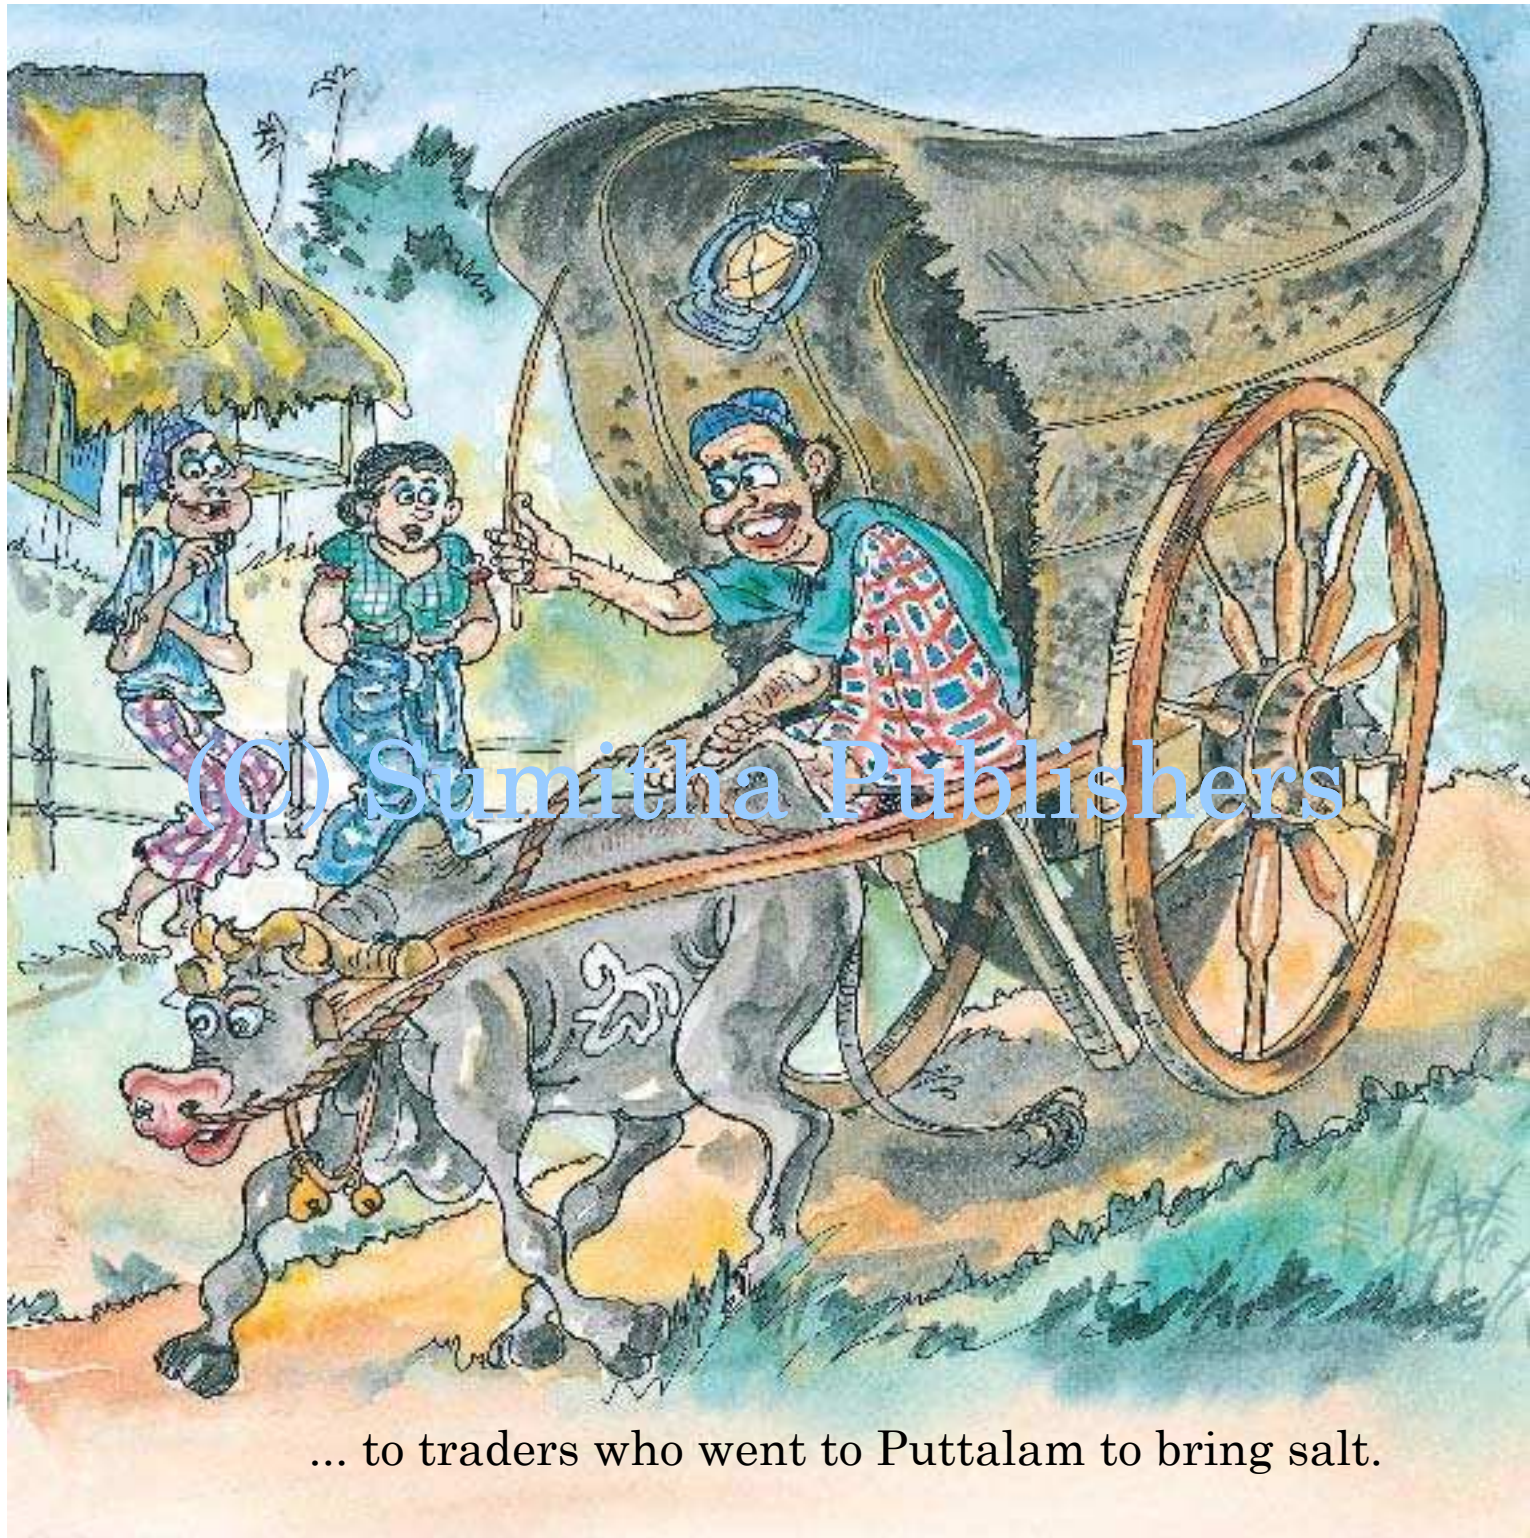

He had a wife and five children. He did not do any farming.
Nor did he do any other work.

His only income came from a bull that he gave on hire ...

(C) Sumitha Publishers

... to traders who went to Puttalam to bring salt.